New Commissioner Is Sworn

Its premier showing was just this week at the Governor's Conference on Tourism in Austin. Raillard attended the conference.

State Comptroller Holds Olsen's Pay

BY TROY MARTIN

A Canyon dentist has been appointed to replace Kenneth Olsen on the city commission.

Dr. Willis Harrison was sworn in Tuesday morning in ceremonies at Canyon Community Center during the second emergency meeting of the city commission in less than 24 hours.

Olsen was told late last week that he either would have to resign or forfeit his pay as a teacher at West Texas State University.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones Nov. 10 enjoined the state comptroller from paying College Station councilmen who also are members of the Texas A&M faculty.

West Texas State University Financial Vice President Virgil Henson said he was told by the comptroller's office early last week that Olsen must step down from the commission or lose his pay as a teacher.

Olsen resigned verbally to Mayor J. Manly Bryan Saturday and submitted a letter of resignation to the city commission Monday.

The comptroller's office notified Henson Monday that this was not good enough and that Olsen's November pay would be held up until his resignation had been accepted by the commission and a successor sworn in.

Henson also was informed that Olsen's pay would be docked every day until such action was taken.

The commission held an emergency executive session Monday night and chose Dr. Harrison to succeed to the office. Dr. Harrison agreed to accept the post.

Formal motion to appoint the dentist was made at the Tuesday morning meeting by Mayor Pro Tem H. R. Fulton, Jr.

Also at the Tuesday morning meeting, Olsen's letter of resignation was read and

Permit, Marshal, Merger, Tonight

Canyon city commission will consider the resignation of Fire Marshal Jack Jennings, consider an appeal of school officials on refusal of a building permit and discuss the proposed merger of city and school tax offices at a regular meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday at Canyon Community Center.

Jennings resigned Nov. 19 after the school appealed his refusal to issue permits for construction of two portable class rooms at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs contended that Jennings had no legal authority to refuse the permits. In fact the school official maintains that the signature of the fire marshal is not required on a building permit in the first place.

The buildings were alrea-

Cage Coupon Books Sold

Coupon books are on sale for West Texas State University basketball games.

Each coupon book sells for $10 and contains five coupons. Each coupon may be exchanged for a $2.50 ticket or for two $1 general admission tickets as long as seats are available.

Exchanges may be made at the West Texas State ticket office or at the Amarillo Civic Center where Buffalo games are being played this year, according to assistant athletic director Frank Kimbrough.

Kimbrough pointed out that all the coupons may be used for one game at a savings of $2.50.

"You may use as many coupons as you wish at any game as long as seats are available," Kimbrough said.

Books are available through the WT ticket office or WTSU basketball boosters in Amarillo and Canyon.

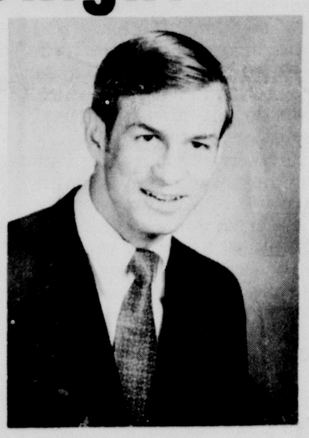
FFA Banquet Is Slated Tonight

Some 350 to 400 people from fifteen area schools are expected to attend the District FFA banquet to be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Canyon Junior High School Auditorium.

The Canyon High School Future Farmers are the host school for the banquet which includes FFA groups from Adrian, Amarillo, Palo Duro, Borger, Boys' Ranch, Claude, Dalhart, Dumas, Groom, Hereford, Panhandle, Stratford, Texline and Vega.

David Harmon, vice president of the Association of Student Government in the United States, will be the featured speaker. Harmon has been the featured speaker for various functions in some 40 states within the last year and a half.

The ASG field representative was a member of Tennessee's senator Brock's committee on Campus Unrest last year. The report report was given to President Nixon. Harmon has also served on the White House Committee for Draft Revision during his term.



DAVID HARMON

Harmon, a senior speech and political science major at WTSU, served on the Student Senate before elected to his national position. At WTSU he served as chairman of the public relations, general affairs, and judicial and housing committees in the student senate and was elected favorite of his freshman class.

Hereford Boy Dies In Mishap

A Hereford youth was fatally injured Sunday evening when he was struck by a car on a US 60 service road at the western outskirts of Canyon.

Dead is Juan Orta, 18 years old, Rt. 5, Hereford.

Investigating officers said the accident occurred about 6:30 o'clock just inside the Canyon city limits. It was the first traffic fatality in Canyon in more than three years.

City police identified the driver of the car as Billy Stavenhagen, Bayless Trailer

On Olsen Case

Profs Disappointed

BY SAM ALLRED

The forced resignation of Canyon City Commissioner Ken Olsen has not exactly set the campus faculty on fire with conversation, but most agree that a university professor should be able to serve the community the same as any other citizen.

Dr. Travis McBride, a WTSU government professor, said Tuesday he was "a little disappointed with the decision as it has been rendered up to this point."

"I think it sort of restricts a professor in that he can't participate in some of these areas," he said. "As another member of the community I feel this would deny us the opportunity to participate in community affairs."

Dr. McBride emphasized the qualified role university employes could play in local affairs.

"I think some of our professors, as well as any well informed citizens, can make contributions to the community," he said.

Although the Texas Constitution has been amended 205 times since it was written, Dr. McBride said it would be "difficult to determine" the chances of a constitutional amendment being passed that would allow state agency employes to hold elective offices.

"Primarily, it would be getting the legislators to do it and then it would be a question of when it would be submitted," he said. "I personally cannot see any opposition to it."

Dr. Duane Guy, head of the WTSU History Department, said "I personally feel the City of Canyon lost a very fine commissioner and the City of Canyon is the worse off for it."

"The university is as much a part of the community as the community is of the university," he said. "My concern is in getting a person who is qualified to do the job, rather than one who represents the university. Ken Olsen was qualified to be a city commissioner."

The dean of women and dean of men of WTSU are actively sought each year to participate in community programs, and the dean of women said she felt it was dangerous to exclude WTSU expertise from full participation in the community.

"In a small campus community such as Canyon it seems to me that if you cut out the talent and potential that exists on campus you are sort of placing a stranglehold on both the city and the campus," said Mrs. Jean Moore.

Mrs. Moore said that with so much general apathy present today that a person willing to serve in any capacity "should be allowed to do so."

Weldon Trice, WTSU dean of men, said that when he joined the faculty one year ago he was "actively encouraged" to join local civic clubs and churches.

"I feel like I am a part of the community," he said. "If we are going to vote we should have the opportunity to be a representative."

Trice was elected president of the Canyon High School Booster's Club, but under the new ruling would be unable to run for a seat on the Canyon School Bard.

"If I could do my job at the University and a elected position did not interfere with that job I think I should be allowed to serve on the school board," he said. "Although let me em-

Court Hires New Juvenile Officer

HAROLD MANN

Randall County commissioners Monday hired a juvenile officer and an assistant juvenile officer.

Both appointments become effective Jan. 1 on which date Woody Pond steps out as juvenile officer to assume the office of Randall County judge.

Harold Mann, who has been serving the past year as assistant to Pond, becomes juvenile officer and his assistant will be Henry Coe Gray, currently a member of the Amarillo Police Department.

Mann is 29 years old and he and his wife live at 3606 Cline Road in South Amarillo. He is a native of Arkansas and has lived in Amarillo for the past seven years.

He worked for the Amarillo Police Department for five and a half years beginning as a patrolman. The last year of his service with that department was spent as a juvenile officer.

He and Mrs. Mann have one child two years old.

Mann holds a degree from West Texas State University. His major was geography and his minor education. He currently is working on a masters degree in education.

He has been employed as assistant Randall County juvenile officer for the past year.

Mann says he enjoys working with youngsters. "I've found that you need the cooperation of both parents if you are to deal with children effectively," Mann declared.

Gray was graduated from Durham High School in Oklahoma in 1952. He served four years in the Air Force beginning in 1955.

He went to work for the Amarillo Police Department in 1965 and currently is serving with the department. Pond in recommending Gray to the commissioners court said he has had experience in dealing with juveniles.

Five Eagles On District Squad

Canyon High School's Eagles placed five men on the all-district football first string this year.

Larry Prichard, 170 pound tackle, and Rick Edmondson, 150 pound back, made the offense first team. Both are juniors.

On the defense, three seniors made the first team. They are Kelly Tinsley, 210 pound tackle; Darrell Breitling, 170 pound linebacker; and Frank Belcher, 150 pound back.

Three more Eagles made the second team. They include James Boyce, 230 pound senior tackle; John Lewis, 190 pound defensive end; and Rick Hales, 180 pound linebacker.

Larry Prichard played a position that received little newspaper attention during the season. Because he was a lineman on offense he made little showing on statistics but his efforts in the line opened the holes that made ball carriers look good.

Edmondson, out early in the season, probably was Canyon's most spectacular ball carrier. Edmondson is the kind of runner that keeps an opponent honest be-

After Eight-Day Study

Pupils Discuss Drugs

BY CAROL CRAIN

What do sixth graders think about dangerous drugs and drug abuse?

Students in James Prock's Science and Health classes came up with some definite answers to the drug abuse question after an eight-day study of the problem held prior to the Thanksgiving holidays.

The students asked questions, did research, saw films and film strips, then heard city attorney Rhett Plank on the subject.

The sixth graders were given the facts and left to make up their own minds.

At the end of the study they answered the following question on unsigned sheets of paper.

When the opportunity comes for You to 'experiment with' or 'try out', or 'use' drugs in any form, what are YOU going to do about it? Tell why."

Here are some of their replies:

"I'm not going to pay any attention to the person who wants me to (take drugs). I'm just going to walk away and try not to see him ever again. I'm not going to take any chances of getting addicted."

"If somebody offers it to me, I'll just say 'no, thank you', and walk off. I don't think I'll care if I am different. I'm very ambitious and don't want my life spoiled by drugs, a sentence in the penitentiary, etc."

"If someone called me a square or a chicken because I didn't take drugs, I might not like being called names, but I still wouldn't take them."

"I don't want to become a dope addict or kill myself because you won't get anything out of it, except a bed in a hospital or a funeral."

"I don't think I will ever take drugs. Because I would rather stay alive than dead."

"I am going to say 'no' because I really want to live a long life and not die because of it, and I also think it would ruin your personality and give you less friends. I hate shots anyway."

"I would not use drugs because they are dangerous. They would injure my body and my brain. Drugs just aren't for me."

"If you take drugs just to be one of the gang or just be with a best friend then you do not have a mind of your own. If you take drugs to feel good, I think you are not very smart. If you need to feel good then you should go to a doctor.

"I will never take drugs because I don't like the idea of taking drugs or of withdrawal."

"I am afraid of drugs. I would be scared to be around drug users."

"I think people should have enough sense to not get started on drugs like heroin, marijuana, and LSD. I would try to help these people if they wanted help. . . if I could."

"I would try to stay away from the person and the drugs and would tell my parents about the person and let them tell the police because I could get in trouble or get hurt and, besides they would probably know what to do better than I would"

"If anyone should try to give me drugs I would leave and go home and tell my parents. If they would try to as-

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The people down at Austin are convinced that the constitutional provision which resulted in the resignation here of Ken Olsen from the city commission will stand up in the appellate court.

Harry Bressler, chief of claims with the state comptroller's office, pointed out that it will take a constitutional amendment to change it.

I think it might be knocked down in the federal courts but then who is going to take it to the federal courts? Serving on the city commission is a pretty thankless job anyway and I doubt that anyone would go to the Supreme Court for the privilege.

I can see how it would be wrong for a college professor to sit on the board of regents. I can see how it would be wrong for the superintendent of the city water department to serve as mayor.

But for the life of me I can't see how it would be wrong for a conscientious guy like Ken Olsen to serve on the commission and the Regional Planning Commission.

No one has worked harder for the city of Canyon in the past three years than Ken Olsen. We need him and men like him on our boards and commissions.

When the ruling was handed down I immediately thought of Walter Shelly. Walter would like to serve his community on the city commission or as mayor some time. He has chosen Canyon as his home and would benefit the town in either capacity.

As it stands now he will never get the opportunity.

The ruling is bound to lessen the interest of the university faculty in community affairs since they know they are barred from serving some places. The provision and the ruling makes second class citizens out of some of our most able people.

Nikita Krushchev's memoirs have painted a pretty grim picture of the Stalin era.

Krushchev lays all the blame on Stalin. He doesn't admit that he was responsible himself for killing some two million people.

I still can't see how the left of this country can — after a quarter century — find such horror in the death of 6 million Jews at the hands of Hitler and still wink at the 21 millions slaughtered by Soviet communism.

Elsewhere on this page is a letter to The Prairie, West Texas State newspaper, from Lester Kinsolving who made a speech on sex recently on the WTSU campus.

The Prairie was kind enough to let me answer the Kinsolving letter and we are carrying the letter and answer just as it appeared in The Prairie.

I mailed Kinsolving a copy of his letter with my reply earlier this week.

Canyon has been asked to join the letter writing campaign to the North Vietnamese in behalf of Americans held prisoners of war by the communists.

Four basic demands are urged by the people promoting the campaign.

They are identification of the prisoners, immediate release of the ill or seriously wounded to a neutral country, impartial inspection of prison camps, and free flow of mail.

The address is the North Vietnamese Embassy, Paris France or Ton Duc Thang, President of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam.

Mail rates to Paris are 20 cents for air mail and 13 cents for first class. Rate to Hanoi is 25 cents.

Americans will write thousands of lettters. We are a naive lot.

In the back of our minds we think of the North Vietnamese leaders as people who might be moved to pity by suffering.

In reality they are cut throats who drive bamboo sticks through children's heads and use terror as a tool of government.

They are not going to be moved to compassion and a million letters will accomplish about as much as has been accomplished by the Paris peace talks.

News Editor, Kinsolving Swap Blasts In Prairie

(Editor's Note: The following letter from the Rev. Lester Kinsolving who spoke on the WTSU campus Oct. 27 was received Monday in The Prairie office. Copies were also sent to the Canyon News and the Amarillo Daily News. Following Rev. Kinsolving's letter is an answer by Troy Martin, publisher and editor of the Canyon News.)

The Editor
The Prarie (sic)
West Texas State University

To the Editor:

The Forums and Discussions Committee, who took the lead in affording me the royal hospitality for which Texas is renowned, has graciously sent me your excellent and appropriately tolerant editorial relating to my (apparently) controversial lecture on The Sexual Revolution and The New Morality.

They also enclosed clippings from something called The Canyon News, an absolutely hilarious sheet which reads as if it is the house organ for either Ivan The Terrible or the White Muslims (The Birch Society.)

I can recall no such frenzied response from the professional press when I gave the same lecture at TCU and A&M. (I do recall that the A&M student newspaper erred in reporting that I said that between them, Kings David and Solomon had fathered 85,000 illegitimate children!)

As for The Prarie's (sic) news report, I would simply clarify two points: (1) The implant contraceptive that I mentioned will not conquer VD. Rather, the serum being perfected by Dr. James Miller of UCLA gives considerable promise in this regard. (2) When VD and premarital pregnancy are conquered, I believe that almost all of the valid reasons against pre-marital intercourse will have been removed— but that promiscuity, for instance, should always be opposed by church, school and home.

I am glad that The Prarie (sic) was honest enough to note that while he does not condemn pre-marital sex, he does not urge it" and "people who marry without any previous sex experience will have a more fulfilling life in the long run."

Why were these important qualifications missing in The Canyon News? In addition to numerous and obvious out-of-contexts, I noted a veritable herd of errors in the alleged "news" story of The News — apparently strung together by some sort of journalisic Visigoth. (I am sorry indeed that my appearance could not have been in the form of a debate with this oaf).

While space and time and inclination preclude my detailing his flock of literary misdemeanors, what I did find especially hilarious was the horrified tone of his report that I am "personna non grata" (catch that spelling!) with many of my fellow clergy and that I admit that one of my ecclesiastical superiors is a "pompous ass."

Only one? This reporter simply cannot be an Episcopalian! For most members of this denomination are realistic enough to know that religion columnists cannot reasonably be expected to avoid being at odds with the clergy and that history abounds with bishops who have been pompous asses. There have even been reporters who answer this description — which makes me glad indeed that there are two newspapers in Canyon!

Cordially and Gratefully,
Lester Kinsolving
Religion Columnist

Dear Editor:

Let me express my gratitude for your consent to publish my open letter to Lester Kinsolving in reply to his letter to you which takes me severely and unjustly to task for coverage of his speech here.

The remainder of my remarks will be addressed to Mr. Kinsolving.

Mr. Kinsolving, as I pen this note to you a score of plaques for journalistic excellence look down on me from the wall of my office so I will not attempt to convince you of my ability as a newspaperman.

I am glad you found our spelling error on persona so hilarious. A man whose sarcasm must alienate him from so many of his fellow human beings must find so little with which to amuse himself.

I noticed that you spelled Prairie "Prarie" just a paragraph above the one in which you ridiculed me for adding an "n" to persona. You misspelled the title of our campus newspaper not once but twice in your letter.

I thought of the Robert Burns poem: "To A Louse." "Would to God a gift to give us to see ourselves as others see us."

As for the "herd of errors" you found in the "so-called news story," you use the tired old ploy of a man who has no facts to substantiate his position. If there had been errors you would have pointed them out. Instead you resort to sarcasm which you do not have to defend point by point.

I received congratulations on the graphic and accurate account of your appearance here from some of the very people who invited you. The only criticism I got from people here was for carrying the story at all.

As a matter of fact, I have shorthand notes on your talk and quite probably could come up with a tape recording if you wish to pursue your charge of inaccuracy further.

You complain that I left out a part of your speech. Now come on Mr. Kinsolving, you claim to be a journalist and should know that no newspaper is going to carry your speech verbatim.

As for your "debating the oaf," I am not a public speaker and do not pretend to be one. The Rev. Dr. Gerald Mann tore your position to bits on the West Texas State campus last week and if you would like to return to campus I am sure we could arrange a debate between your illustrious self and the Rev. Dr. Mann.

As far as the "pompous ass" bit which you apparently allude to me, Mr. Kinsolving, three decades in the newspaper business and my observation of man have taught me humility — a trait which I highly recommend to you.

Sincerely,
Troy Martin

Soil Survey Report Now Available

The Soil Survey Report of Randall County is now available for distribution, according to Edward Wieck, Chairman of the Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District.

The survey report was produced by the USDA-Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, stated Wieck. It contains information such as a detailed soils map for every acre of land in Randall County, information concerning formation and classification of soils, engineering uses of soils, uses of soils in community development, uses of soils for wildlife, and uses of soils for agricultural purposes. This information can be applied in managing farms, ranches, and grazing lands, in selecting sites for roads, ponds, buildings, or other structures, and in judging the suitability of tracts of land for agriculture, industry, or recreation.

Wieck stated that copies of the soil survey report can be obtained from the Canyon Work Unit Office of the Soil Conservation Service, 304 15th Street (Rear) or from the Randall County Agricultural Agent's Office located in the Randall County Courthouse.

Dancers Meet, Name Officers

The Canyon Capers Square Dance Club met Monday night and danced to the calling of Knox Day.

Leroy Pitt gave the guest tip. The group commended the outgoing officers for their work over the past six months.

The new officers were named at the meeting: president, Lester and Lida Crow; vice president, Lewis and Margaret Tucek; secretary-treasurer, Bob and Virginia Costley; social chairman, Roger and Phyllis Dugan; reporter, Bob and June Podzemny; PSDA represenative, Louis and Betty Thomas.

Three couples will graduate into the club in 2 weeks. They have been taking lessons with the Canyon Capers.

The Moore family from Hereford visited at the meeting. Mrs. Podzemny stated that "visitors are always welcome" at the Monday night sessions.

Uniforms For WT Band

The West Texas State Buffalo Band may soon be sporting new uniforms, but they will be of "traditional" band uniform styling and will be in WTSU's maroon and white colors.

Dr. John Green, dean of the School of Fine Arts, said the school will have to purchase between 300-350 uniforms to replace the 11-year-old uniforms currently worn by the band.

"Our uniform selection committee has been studying this for some time and we hope to be able to advertise for bids soon," he said. "We expect to have all the bids in by the end of January and be able to submit the winning bid to the WTSU Board of Regents at their Feb. 5 meeting."

Dr. Green said it was still undetermined what the uniforms would cost since "that information comes with the bids."

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

Hundreds of thousands of young people are turning from the faiths of their fathers to cults, spiritualism, astrology, mystical Eastern religions, and even witchcraft. Why? Because man is incurably religious. Not having found "pasture" in the churches, he has gone out to search for it elsewhere.

It is almost incredible that enlightened people would turn from Christianity that has brought so much blessing, joy, and progress to the world, to religions which are synonymous with misery, oppression, and despair. Christianity gave to the world hospitals, schools, and orphanages. It was Christ who gave dignity to work, to the common man, to women, and to children. Have children reared in Christian homes really rejected Christ?

On the contrary, many young people who are outspoken in their denunciation of churches are professing Christians. As one London hippie explained to a soapbox preacher in Hyde Park, "It's not your Christ we object to; it's you Christians we don't like."

Few people attend church for recreation or entertainment; an abundance of that is available everywhere — even in our homes.

Sunday School classes do not enjoy political harangues, nor rehashes of the latest movies, or football games; they want to study the Bible and be involved in the learning situation. If Christians are to grow, they must be fed.

People go to church to find God, and God is love. When God is not evident in a church, they either look for Him elsewhere, or seek a substitute to fill the spiritual vacuum.

The Bible likens the Church to a body with Christ as the head, each member having a peculiar function. When a church becomes a hierarchy with a human head, it usually loses the capacity to portray the Savior.

Belgium's Catholics report that the ordination rate has fallen from 20 to 50%, and that nearly 25,000 priests have left the ministry in the past 8 years. However, this represents only 5% of their Roman Catholic priests. With 500,000 priests to minister to Belgium's 9½ million citizens (not all of whom are Catholics), what work is left for the members? People do not join a church to be served but to serve.

When the members are relieved of all the responsibility of the church through paid workers, they are also deprived of the privilege of service, and the essential growth that can develop only through "exercise."

The best gift anyone has to give is himself. The church member who does not feel loved and needed is not likely to feel that his money is needed either. When a congregation gets too big to find a place of service for every member, its idle members usually begin to drift away.

Claire Cox of Copley News Service reports that many "major denominations — Methodist, Presbyterians, Lutherans, Episcopalians, United Church of Christ members, and so on — are turning away from the traditional Sunday School approach to Christianity and toward service, social issues and ecumenism."

The same report says Southern Baptists are "almost alone" in the ability to hold their young people. Yet Southern Baptists major on Sunday School, and have been the least involved in social gospel and ecumenism.

Everyone wants to be happy, and many seek happiness in pleasure. Pleasure can bederived from sin; happiness, however, is based on obedience to eternal laws. How can one obey laws unless he knows them?

True benevolence is not feeding a man's body; that is merely a means to a desired end. (The rich commit suicide as frequently as the poor.) True benevolence is lifting man's spirit. That can be done only by loving concern for the spiritual welfare of everyone we meet.

Churches that do not "feed the sheep," by involving them in Bible study and Christian service, can expect to continue to lose them to the cults where they do find indoctrination and opportunities for self expression and service.

In two days of deer hunting on the Mastin Ranch in Sonora, Texas five men bagged 15 deer. The hunters are Harroll Adams and Bruce Cannon, of Amarillo, Jack Warren of Canyon, and Leland Cannon of Amarillo. Not pictured is Johnny "Bud" Wozencraft of Amarillo.

Burkhalter Is Tallest Buffalo

When a fellow must duck his head to keep from hitting six-foot, eight and one-half inch door frames, he automatically becomes one who most folks look up to and ask, "Say I'll bet you're a basketball player, arent' you?"

Just because Johnie Burkhalter was 10 inches over the six-foot mark when he graduated from Amarillo Tascosa High School four years ago, didn't necessarily mean he was a full-fledged basketball player.

Spread along that frame was only 175 pounds of meat, and it all stood atop bad arches.

Entering his senior year at West Texas State University and his fifth year in college (he was red-shirted one year), he's a shade over 6-11 and now weighs 240 pounds. Arch supports, which were obtained following his red-shirt year, have gradually strengthened his feet.

Now, the big fellow is nearing the point he can look down at those folks and reply, "Dang right — and I'm a good one too."

"John's added weight and experience are telling from him this year," says West Texas State cage coach Dennis Walling. "We are looking forward to him being a help this season."

Burkhalter got a taste of glory last season and he enjoyed it and now wants more. He came off the bench at Portland last fall, tallied three quick buckets and pulled down a couple of rebounds, as the Buffs took an 84-72 win.

"We were in a tight game at that time and people told me I broke in open," said John. "No feeling in the world is better than the feeling of winning. I hope to feel good a bunch this year."

Burkhalter feels his added weight has given the stamina he has lacked in the past. Coach Walling required all of his players to run one mile on the opening day of practice. Last year, John just barely finished the mile. He was respectable with his showing this fall.

"My jumping and shooting ability is also improved this year," says John. "I worked at nights this past summer, but I shot a bit in the mornings. I still don't jump too well from a standing start, but with one step and a jump, I jump with anyone on the ball club."

John will be playing against his brother, Jerry, when the Buffaloes meet Houston Baptist twice this year. The two teams meet Jan. 7 in Houston and Feb. 13 in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. Jerry is a junior at the Houston school.

TwoWomen Scalded In Accident

Two women were scalded Monday morning by water from a steam oven in the Rex Reeves Elementary School cafeteria kitchen where they are employed.

Mrs. Bonnie Cogburn suffered first and second degree burns about the legs and Mrs. Dorothy Waggoner was less seriously burned about the left foot and ankle.

Both women were treated at a physician's office but were not hospitalized.

Mrs. Ruby Bonds, supervisor, said the two women were putting some green beans into the steam oven about 11 o'clock to keep them warm.

She said the water in the oven failed to release as it should when they opened the door and it spewed out on them.

Mrs. Ruth Bednorz and Mrs. Lenora Cunningham who were standing nearby were splashed by hot water but not seriously injured.

First aid was rendered immediately to Mrs. Cogburn and Mrs. Waggoner and then they were taken to the physician's office for further treatment.

HD Council Xmas Tea Is Monday

The annual home demonstration council Christmas Program and Tea will be held Monday at 2:00 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church, 1818 4th Avenue.

The program will include the Freshman Choir from Canyon Junior High School and the installation of the 1971 council officers.

Door prizes will be given after the tea.

The Home Demonstration Council will provide a nursery for the club members' children during the event.

The WTSU Student Senate held an informal reception for the Panhandle Delegation to Austin after senate meeting Monday. Billy Davis of Amarillo presented the idea to the WT Senate. Here, he is pictured with State Representative Tom Christian of Claude and State Representative-elect Ben Bynum of Amarillo. Other members of the Panhandle Delegation present were Max Sherman, state senator-elect of Amarillo and Phil Cates, state representative-elect of Lefors.

State Files Answer In Appeal Case

Curtis Frank Brooks has appealed his 99-year sentence for forcible rape, which he received May 20 in Randall County, but the chances of the sentence being overturned seem remote at this time.

The state has filed an answer in the appeal case of Curtis Frank Brooks, under 99-year sentence on a May 20 conviction for forcible rape.

Brooks, 23, was found guilty of assaulting a South Amarillo housewife, and based his appeal on the objection that "the evidence was insufficient to support either a conviction of rape by force or to prove the offense as a matter of law."

In answer to the appeal, Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen and Assistant Dist. Atty. Dick Dambold said that "the nature and number of threats made to the prosecutrix and her daughter were of the type to remove any possibility that resistance could be expected."

The victim testified during the trial that Brooks, who was armed with a pistol, repeatedly threatened the life of her five-year-old daughter if she did not do what he said.

"He received a fair trial in Randall County," Dowlen said Tuesday, the day the answer to the appeal was filed. "The research we have done since his conviction creates an even stronger feeling in my mind that the conviction will be upheld."

Dowlen said it was his understanding that Brooks pled guilty to four similar crimes in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and received two 99-year sentences in each of the cities.

"I understand Brooks had indicated that he wants to appeal all of the sentences," he said.

Brooks is currently being held in the Fort Worth jail until his appeals are heard.

CHS Girl Eagles Whop Clarendon

Canyon's girl Eagles smacked the A Clarendon team 69-23 Monday night in Canyon High School Gymnasium.

Clarendon had a fair second quarter but was never really in the game.

Leta Gill, Canyon's sharpshooter, laid in three field goals in the first five minutes of the game before taking a breather on the bench.

This lassie hit the target for 12 field goals and a single charity shot to lead scoring with 25 points.

The Clarendon team managed only one point in the first quarter — a free throw by Louis.

The score was 10-1 at the end of the first period.

Clarendon played respectable ball in the second quarter. McCracken and Taylor each sank a pair of field goals and Smith came in with a field goal and a charity toss for 11 points.

But in the meantime, Gill hit for two more field goals and Kris Tucker sank a pair from the floor and two gratis shots while Marilyn Read scored two free throws and a field goal for a team total of 14 points in the quarter.

Kris had a bead on the basket from the free throw line. She went to the line 11 times and sank seven during the game.

At half time Coach Bob Schneider's charges led by a score of 24 to 12.

Kris Tucker scored 14 of her 19-point total in the third quarter. She connected for four field goals and made six of seven shots from the free throw line during that period.

The Eagles led 46-15 by the end of the end of the third period.

Scoring was scattered among six forwards who saw service in the final quarter. Miss Gill scored 7 points with three field goals and a free throw while Lynnette Slack scored all three of her field goals for the game in that stanza.

Ginger Currie sank two field goals and Marilyn Read and Kim Tucker on each. Canyon committed only 15 fouls during the entire contest while Clarendon was charged with 27 and lost three players by the foul route.

Canyon girls attempted 66 field goals and made 27 for a little more than 40 percent. Clarendon made 9 of 32 field goal attempts.

Canyon tried 32 field goals and sank 15 for 47 percent. Clarendon scored on five of 23 trips to the line.

Joy Williams, a guard, got seven rebounds and Kris Tucker, a forward, 7. Joy Williams stole the ball four times and Leta Gill 3. Canyon had 14 turnovers for the game.

Canyon girls play host to Bula at 6:30 o'clock Friday in Canyon High School gymnasium.

Kris Tucker (13) moves the ball toward the Canyon basket in the girl Eagle game with Clarendon Monday night. Ginger Currie (54) moves in to take a pass from her teammate.

T-Anchor 4-H Has Meeting

The T-Anchor 4-H Riding Club met recently at the Randall Country Farm Bureau Building and discussed the upcoming Horse Show.

The following committee was appointed to organize the show: Martha Johnson, Stan Cook, Susan Ross, Mary Rucker, Glennis Evans, Sam Ross, and Nancy Horton.

The next planned meeting will be a Christmas bowling party for the club members. Time and place of the party will be announced at a later date.

The club welcomed three new members, Jo Ann Fischbacher, Becky Jo Lindsey, and Matt Griffin.

For the program the film "Mr. Decathlon" was shown. The film included the discussion of the Quarter Horse in racing, riding, and rodeo events.

Two Buffaloes To Shrine Grid Game

Running back Ralph "Rocky" Thompson and defensive specialist Ralph Anderson have accepted invitations to play in the annual North-South Shrine football game in Miami, Fla., Christmas Day.

Announcement of acceptance of the invitations was made by West Texas State Coach Joe Kerbel.

The 200-pound Thompson, one of the fastest sprinters in the world this past year, led the Buffaloes in rushing during the recently completed season in which West Texas State won seven of 10 games.

He gained 848 yards on 175 carries. In addition, he led in kickoff returns with 10 for 240 yards and in scoring with 12 touchdowns for 72 points.

Two of Thompson's touchdowns came on pass receptions, a department in which he ranked third with 16 catches for 124 yards.

Twice last spring Thompson ran the 100-yard dash in 9.2 seconds and during the summer while competing in the British Commonwealth Games he turned in a 10.1 for 100 meters. He is a native of Spice Hill, Bermuda.

Anderson, 6-foot-1, 175-pound safety from Dallas, Texas, was one of the top defensive hands for the Buffaloes for three years.

He accounted for 84 yards and one touchdown on eight punt returns and 45 yards on six pass interceptions, running one back for a touchdown.

His 4.6-second speed for 40 yards enabled him to return four kickoffs for 66 yards. On defense he had 25 unassisted tackles and 35 assisted ones. He also recovered two fumbles.

Anderson, who high jumped 6-foot-6 in high school, also had six pass interceptions in 1969 and four as a sophomore.

The two seniors are the first Buffs to be invited to post-season all-star games this year.

News Brief

The Language Learning Disabilities class at Rex Reeves Elementary School will hold an open house for parents whose children are enrolled in the program in room 122 tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Connie Weis and Mrs. Mary Townsend will show completed work and explain materials in the research room.

Eagles Pecked By Hawks 50-49

The Canyon Eagles missed two opportunities to score in the waning seconds of the game and lost to a well-balanced Phillips team 50-49 here Tuesday night.

Outscored in the first two quarters and tied in the third, Coach B. B. Kendricks' Eagles came charging back in the final period and almost overtook the Blackhawks from Phillips.

Towering 6-8 Randy Jarnigan contained Canyon's sharpshooter John Green to merely a pair of field goals in the contest. Green had led scoring with 22 points against Clarendon the previous evening.

The Eagles had a good night on the boards picking off 25 rebounds. Mike Podzemny led in this department with 11.

The Eagles got off 62 field goal shots as compared to 54 for the opponents. They sank 21 as compared to only 20 by the winners.

Canyon had foul trouble committing 18 as compared to 10 by the Hawks. The Hawks managed 10 points at the free throw line and that was the difference.

The Eagles shot a better percentage, 7 out of 10, than the Hawks, but they just didn't get as many chances.

The visitors led 14-11 at the end of the first quarter and 27-21 by half time. The margin remained 6 points 40-34 by the end of the third.

With a single point margin, Canyon controlled the ball the last 29 seconds of the game but missed two field goal tries and the ball game went down the drain.

Mike Podzemny had a great night. He poured in 12 field goals and made four free throws out of six tries for a total of 28 points and high scoring honors for the game.

Roy Rhoten led the visitors with 16 points.

The Eagles humilitated Clarendon 75-46 here Monday night.

John Green was high point man for Canyon with 22 points while Mike Podzemny was runner up for honors with 22 points.

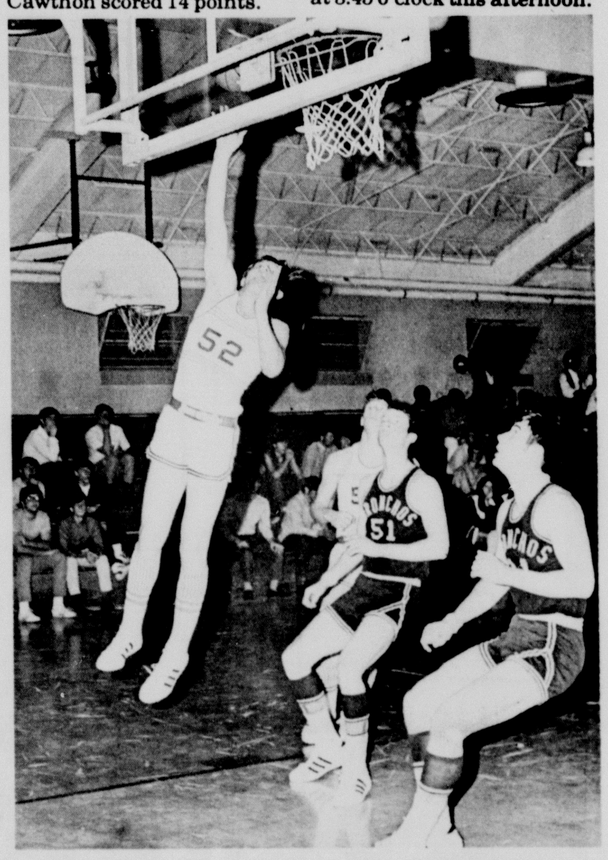
The Eagles took a 14-7 lead in the first quarter but led by 10-point scoring of Kenny Bacon the Bronchos narrowed the margin to 29-25 by half time.

The Eagles pulled away in the third period and then smothered the Bronchos in the final stanza.

Canyon Junior Varsity trampled Clarendon JVs 64-21. Billy Bob Taylor was high with 16 points.

The Eagles tipped Lockney 58-55 last Saturday night. John Green and Willie Johnson tied for high point with 15 each and Kim Cawthon scored 14 points.

The Eagles play Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Top O Texas Tournament at Pampa meeting Hereford in their first game at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.



Eagle scoring ace Mike Podzemny goes high for a field goal in the Clarendon game Monday night. He was runner up for scoring honors with 16 points in that contest and paced his teammates Tuesday with 28 points against Phillips.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Janice Constantine does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking.

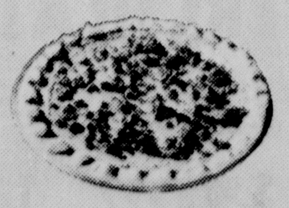
Good cooks like Janice Constantine and 9 out of 10 professional cooks agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

Here's one of Janice Constantine's favorite recipes.

PIONEER NATURAL GAS COMPANY

QUICHE LORRAINE
Janice Constantine, 108 Ridglea, Midland



One 10" cooked pastry shell
Fill with:
4 tbs. grated Parmesan cheese
½ lb. crisp bacon pieces
Put in a bowl:
2 whole eggs plus 2 yolks
Mix in:
1 level tsp. Dijon mustard
1 tsp. dry mustard
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. Cayenne pepper
⅓ c. strained bacon fat
½ c. grated Parmesan cheese
Pour onto this mixture:
2¼ c. scalded heavy cream
Stir well. Fill shell with mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. When custard is set, scatter ½ lb. crisp bacon pieces on top. Sprinkle with chopped parsley.

"Emperor" Selected As Christmas Show

"The Emperor's New Clothes" has been selected as the 1970 Alpha Psi Omega Christmas show and is scheduled to play for the public December 10 at 8:15 in the Branding Iron Theatre.

The play, based on the Hans Christian Anderson Fairy Tale, will cost $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. It will be given free of charge in area elementary schools with performances closed to the general public.

The story tells of two rogues who eventually become the heroes of the story. The two try to release the weavers and other citizens in a faraway land from the grasp of the Emperor who is young, foolish and cares only about new clothes.

Profits from the annual show go to the Alpha Phi Omega Scholarship Fund for freshman drama students. The organization gave two freshman scholarships last spring.

Directors for the show are F. C. (Bill) Jordan, Alpha Psi Omega stage manager and Sara Hard, Alpha Psi Omega pledge. Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore are sponsors for Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity.

Cast director, Nick Reid, is the designer of the sets and costumes for the production. Barbara Lewis is in charge of costume construction and stage manager is John Robinson. Robinson will also play the part of Fah. Walter Todd will be in charge of the lighting.

The cast includes Travis Dean as Zan and Brad Maule as Zar. Howard Carlton will portray the Emperor.

The Empress will be portrayed by Linda Rockwell. Forrest Baldwin will play Han and Pinky Floyd has been cast as the General. Brenda Cason will play the part of the Gong Bearer, Vicky McCormick will portray Tsein; Cindy Newman, Mong; and Steve Garre, Ling.

Other weavers, children, and citizens will be played by Debbie Canterbury, Nick Reid, Janet Cammack, Althea Fisher, Earlene Harris, Barbara Huckert, Mary Busalacchi, Patty Barker, Rhonda Meadows, and Sandra Sage.

News Brief

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey M. Foster attended the funeral of Mrs. Foster's brother, L. Wesley Read Tuesday, November 25 in St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Lubbock.

Mr. Read, a pioneer Lubbock real estate agent, was a veteran of World War I. Entombment was in Resthaven Mausoleum.

The Fosters were called to Lubbock Sunday, November 23 due to the death of Mr. Read.

Mrs. Walter Schaefer of Follarsbee, West Virginia, won the clock door prize at H.R.'s Christmas Open House Sunday. Mrs. Schaefer attended the event while visiting with her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. David LaBrie, 2505 12th Avenue. Mrs. Schaefer plans to give the clock to her daughter so that it may remain in Canyon.

New Average Announced For Hinders Herd

A new annual herd production average for milk and butterfat has been announced for the Registered Holstein herd owned by Louis G. Hinders of Canyon.

As reported by Holstein-Friesian Association of America, the herd has completed its latest testing year with an official per-cow average of 16,272 lbs. of milk and 596 lbs. of butterfat, based on 81 completed lactations.

Texas A&M University supervised the weighing and production testing procedures in cooperation with this breed improvement program of Holstein organization. Nearly 2,400 herds are enrolled nationally in the DHIR program.

Production testing is useful to herd owners in measuring herd improvement progress, analyzing management and generally increasing the profit from the dairy operation.

This herd's performance level compares favorable to the cow's annual output of 8,821 lbs. of milk and 325 lbs. of butterfat. Production average are calculated on the commonly employed, two milkings per day, 305-day, mature equivalent basis to provide a comparison standard.

CSC Meeting Date Changed

Variety, That's What Geneva Berry's Writings Are Made OF

Variety, that's the spice of life and of Geneva Berry's writings.

So far this year Mrs. E. C. Berry has entered three Panhandle Pen Women contests and has taken first place with her recent poem and short fiction work. She placed third with her novel entry.

In a way, the pen women gave her a reason to write. . . at least a reason to write a poem.

"I've never written a poem in my life, and probably won't ever again," Mrs. Berry grinned, while explaining that the group needed a certain number of poems to enter a recent contest.

So, in order not to let the club members down, she got out her old English literature book and looked at some of the modern free verse poems. She fashioned her entry, "Prairie Born," after some of those she studied, making a verse out of every four or five lines.

"The poem took about ten minutes to write," Mrs. Berry said with a smile. "Why, I didn't even keep a copy of the poem."

The recent contest was judged by Professor Harry Morris of the Florida State University's English Department in Tallahassee, Florida.

"It must have been raining the day he judged those poems," she laughed. "And he wanted to see some sunshine. . . so he gave my entry first." All entries were returned after the judging.

During her first year in the Panhandle Pen Women, Mrs. Berry has entered three contests and placed in all three. All have been judged by different college professors in points throughout the United States.

Mrs. Kathleen Collins, WTSU English teacher, judged Mrs. Berry's short fiction as the first place winner and author-teacher Tony Hillerman gave her third place in the novel division after seeing the first three chapters of her novel "in the rough." Hillerman teaches at the University of New Mexico.

The novel is a humorous account of the educated, unsuperstitious Navajo Indian.

"I grew up in Eastern New Mexico," she explained. "The Indians there get a kick out of lying about their superstitions. Some are a lot more educated than the white man."

"The Indians have a dead pan humor and, you have to know them to realize when they are joking."

The Indians enjoy sitting on the main streets of Santa Fe or other towns in a blanket looking poor, when actually, many are richer than anyone realizes, she noted.

Mrs. Berry's book is a series of humorous incidents that she knows about or has heard. The novel, which is about 2/3 finished "in the rough," has a suspenseful ending. Her background gives her added insight into the real Indian.

"I can remember things they would tell me as a child." They would tell a child things they wouldn't tell a college professor.

Mrs. Berry lived in the rugged ranch country between Santa Rosa and Tucson. There, she got to know the Indians well.

"But, I'm a mood writer. . . I can not write unless I'm in the mood," Mrs. Berry explained.

She noted that she writes "about her experiences," "loves to elaborate" and thinks that the "real work lies in the editing."

"I don't use outlines; I know some people do," she said. "I take an incident or experience and write about it. Things just sort of snowball to the climax."

Mrs. Berry, a ten-year Canyon resident, has recently sent articles to "Redbook," "True Confessions," "True Story," and "Playboy."

"I'll probably get them all back though," she said.

"So when you hear that they've all suspended publication, you'll know they've receive my articles!" she laughed.

"I had to sneak into the grocery store to buy a copy of those magazines before I wrote the articles," she joked. "I hadn't read "True Confessions" since I was a girl."

The manuscript that has been sent to "Playboy" is about San Antonio's "Thieves of Bagdad," and is a true incident.

Yes, her talent is varied, perhaps even she does not know how much so, until she tries something new. . . and wins first place.

Geneva Berry, the name the Panhandle Pen Women are hearing more and more.

Her award winning poem, "Prairie Born" is printed below.

PRAIRIE BORN
By Geneva Berry

I am of those of the prairie; the high desert prairie; a sun-swept wind-swept rainbowed land— a place of deep tawny grasses, of bitter-sweet sage. Of desert fire. Growing there, the Eight of us, playing there; brown and red and white of skin, but uncaring. Knowing only that we stood on the East side of the sunset; aware with a silence of faith that God held the four corners of dawn above our heads to bring us joy, and the yellow evening light He held to give us peace.

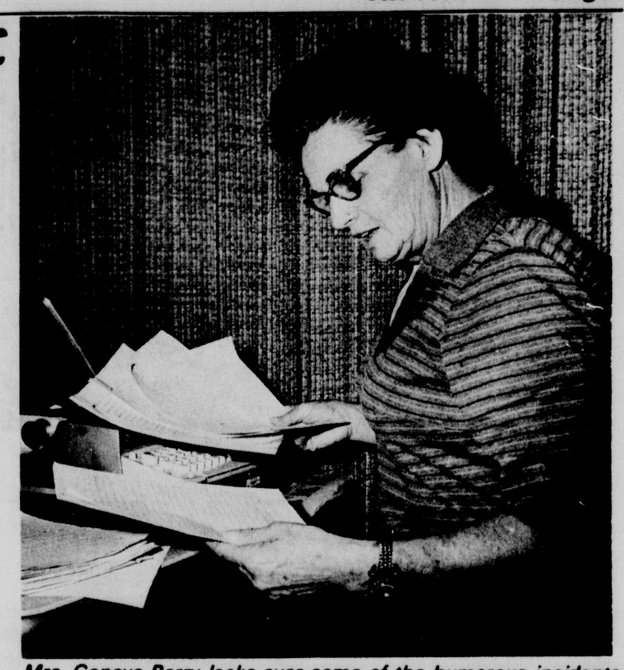
And He gave us a small dark cross of love that we might be humble, for one of us He kept for Himself — A forver child— pure in mind and no different ever in all the years of his life. Still in our small brown hands He placed the wonder of trust. And

He gave us a Grandmother, an aged Grandmother, who wore a band of black fog about her forehead; but over it lay the clear light that comes with a storm in the darkness. Thus He gave us to know this one; almost free, shining deep and soft like velvet in her freedom.

We went out then— first one and then another— as our days deepened about us. Into the soft yellow sunlight into the grey fog and the sharp glare of lightning we went out. To race the West wind for awhile.

But now, the pale edges of night stand before me. I see from my window the wet black land, the alien land with walls. I wait for the long day to end inside me. Without vision I wait; for to see nothing is to see beyond all color and all shadow beyond the cold and the fog and the pain. Now as a small wind I feel the soft warm breath of Home. Ah, My Father I cry aloud for Home.



Mrs. Geneva Berry looks over some of the humorous incidents in her novel about the Navajo Indians. The book is about 2/3 finished. Mrs. Berry, a member of the Panhandle Pen Women and the Writers Association of the Golden Spread, has written articles, short stories and much to her surprise. . . an award-winning poem.

Miss Debra Carol Scrib

Miss Scrib To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Roger L. Scrib announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Debra Carol, to Roger C. Wiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hebert H. Wiley.

A December 27 wedding is being planned in the First United Methodist Church of Canyon.

The bride-elect is a senior at Canyon High School.

The prospective groom has recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base and is stationed at Shepard AFB, Texas. He attended Canyon High School.

Palisades HD Has Meeting

The Palisades Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Doug Hooker for a Thanksgiving luncheon recently.

Mrs. Paul McDonald, president of the group, conducted the business meeting. Members answered roll call with "where I would like to spend Thanksgiving."

Mrs. Larry Pinson was welcomed into the club as a new member. Members displayed Christmas decorating ideas and worked on handwork for the remainder of the meeting.

Present at the meeting were Mesdames Onnie Atkerson, Charles Hooker, Joe Lovan, Jr., Paul McDonald, Jairrel Moore, Garland Turner, Bobby Walker, Gene Webb, Al Williams, Joe Detten, and Doug Hooker.

The next meeting will be a luncheon held at 11:30 a.m. today at the Paul McDonald home. The Pleasantview Home Demonstration Club will be the invited guests at the luncheon.

AAUW Luncheon Is Saturday

The American Association of University Women will have a Covered Dish Luncheon Saturday at 12:30 p.m. in the home of Miss Ruth Cross, 2504 Sixth Avenue.

Mrs. David Rasco will bring the AAUW program "Journey to the Himalayas," after the luncheon. Cohostesses for the event will be Mrs. John Green, Mrs. Robert Wright, Miss Marva Sue Delk, and Mrs. R. B. Gist.

Troop 16 Bake Sale Saturday

A boutique and bake sale will be held by Senior Girl Scout Troop 16 Saturday beginning at 9:00 a.m. at the old Cooper's Market location on 4th Avenue.

Handmade wastebaskets, dolls, decoupage, and bake sale goodies will be offered for sale at the event.

Money raised by the troop through various projects during the year will go toward financing the troop's trip to a Wyoming girl scout camp next summer.

Mrs. Bill Ormsby is the troop's advisor.

cause he can explode for a touchdown from any place on the field as he did several times this year.

In rushing statistics, Rick picked up 427 yards in 106 carries for an average of 4 yards a carry.

Tinsley, mentioned on numerous occasions as an all-state possibility, was in on 130 tackles during the season. His efforts caused six fumbles of which he recovered three himself. He made 28 tackles unassisted.

Breitling was in on 146 tackles, caused three fumbles and recovered three. He made 16 tackles unassisted.

Another sparkling Eagle defender was Frank Belcher. Although a back, Belcher was in on 126 tackles as action swirled around him.

Honorable mention went to Sam Kerbel, center; Bill Byrd, guard; Mike Podzemny, end; Cliff Prichard, back; Van James, defensive lineman; John Dodson, defensive end; and Jerry Carlile, defensive back.

Canyon placed 8 men on the first and second all-district teams; Dumas, 16; Perryton, 11; Levelland, 8; Muleshoe, 5; and Tulia, 1.

accepted.

Mayor Bryan expressed disapproval of the ruling which forced Olsen's resignation.

"Many community leaders will be unable to serve in elective offices in Canyon now," Dr. Bryan declared.

Fulton said the commission should pass a resolution expressing that disapproval.

Olsen said he has also resigned from the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission and its executive board of which he is a charter member.

Olsen is a retired Navy commander. He teaches finance and transportation management at West Texas State. He has been on the commission for the past three years.

Dr. Harrison is a 1961 graduate of West Texas State University and a 1965 graduate of the University of Texas School of Dentistry. He served two years in the Army as a captain and returned to Canyon three years ago to open practice.

He is vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, a vice president of the Lions Club and is on the board of stewards and treasurer of Canyon First Methodist Church.

The unexpired term to which Dr. Harrison was appointed will expire next April. Dr. Harrison said he does not know whether he will be a candidate for a full term.

Events which led up to Olsen's resignation began when a suit was brought against the College Station councilmen.

The suit was based on Article 16, Sections 33 and 40 of the Texas Constitution which was adopted in the 1870s.

Judge Jones ruled that under this article the state comptroller may not pay the A&M professors as long as they hold offices as councilmen. Attorneys in the case say it will be appealed. In the meantime, the A&M professors are being paid out of local funds.

For many years members of the WT faculty have served in elective positions in the Canyon community.

The Olsen resignation raised a question as to whether members of the faculty any longer would be able to sit on boards, serve as election judges or in other capacities of community service.

Two members of the university staff are on the city Planning and Zoning Commission. Clarence Eugene Thompson, university business manager, is on the board and Herschel Coffee, a faculty member, serves as chairman of the commission.

Elton Cox, member of the law firm which gives legal advice to the city, also teaches at West Texas State.

Harry Bressler, chief of claims in the state comptroller's office, said the Jones ruling will not affect these people since they are appointed and not elected.

"It only applies to elected people," said Bressler. "Now if you've got any faculty members on the school board you better not let us catch you."

Bressler said the provision under the constitution could not be changed by an act of the legislature.

"It would take an amendment to the constitution," he declared.

"If they started to leave in their car. I would get their license number."

"I'd try hard to realize what would happen if I took drugs, what would happen to my brain, my environment, and how my parents would feel."

Another summed up his feeling for the program and its success this way:

"I hate drug abuse. I've learned a whole lot about it. I like life, I want to live. And, I love my parents. I would not want to hurt myself. I don't have any reason to try or use drugs. I would turn it down and tell my parents. My parents trust me and I don't want to hurt them."

Jennings said he refused to sign permits because the buildings under construction would be "fire traps."

City and school officials have expressed hope that the two subdivisions' tax offices can be merged by Feb. 1 since current tax collections continue through January.

The commission Thursday night probably will discuss a contract prepared by City Attorney Elton Cox.

In other business, the commission is scheduled to consider bids on 1,000 feet of 2½ inch fire hose and bids on one flatbed truck and two half-ton pickups.

The commission is expected to appoint a representative to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to replace Kenneth Olsen, who has resigned.

phasize that I have no plans to run for the school board."

Trice said it was his experience that "the Lions and Rotary clubs would not have half their membership if you took out the university people."

Although faculty members do face restrictions under the new ruling, they are not as restricted as some of their university colleagues have always been.

Capt. John Osborne, assistant professor of military science at WTSU, said Army personnel are "not to enter into the question of partisan politics from an official standpoint."

"We are not allowed to as long as we are military officers," he said. "We can't say the Army prefers 'candidate a' more than 'candidate b'."

Art Fair This Week At WTSU

A varied collection of art including hundreds of items will be for sale at the Art Fair to be held Saturday and Sunday in the ballroom of the Activities Center.

The event, sponsored by Kappa Pi, international honorary art fraternity, will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The exhibit and sale will include works from WT art students, art teachers, and graduates. The prices will vary according to the individual artist.

Early entrants in the show included Gail Oswalt, Dr. Robert Hobbs, Penny Yates, Ann Palmer, Barbara Rudd, Phyllis Cappadonna, Joan Bruce, Bonnie Heaton, Darold Smith, Clay Schaffer, Bob Daniel, Pat McCracken, June Clark, Terry Pulse, Arlene Ehly, Mary Helen Griffith, Paula Gusler, Kay Golden, and Marilyn Mize.

The Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity, will furnish entertainment and a coffee house.

June Clark, Amarillo senior and Elaine Maples, Amarillo sophomore, look over some of the art work that will be up for sale at the Art Fair. The fair, sponsored by Kappa Pi, international honorary art fraternity, will be held in the Activities Center ballroom Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. and Sunday from 1:00 p.m. to 6 p.m. Miss Clark is president of the campus organization.

Buffs Bow In Opener To Weber State Team 73-63

OGDEN, UTAH—Weber State's nationally ranked basketball team spoiled the season opener for West Texas State, 73-63 here Tuesday night.

The Buffaloes of Coach Dennis Walling played at Logan, Utah, Wednesday night against Utah State, which has been ranked as high as ninth in the nation.

Weber has been ranked by several pre-season polls in the nation's top 20.

It was a case of cool field goal shooting and fouls which spelled the difference in the game. The Buffaloes managed to hit only 26 of 74 field goal attempts for a 35.1 percentage. They were charged with 28 fouls against 16 for Weber.

Weber converted on 21 of 32 free throw attempts while the West Texans hit 11 of 17 and that 10-point margin was the margin of the game.

Weber held narrow leads through most of the contest, but pulled away in the final four minutes when desperation forced West Texas into necessary chances on defense.

With four and a half minutes to play the Buffs trailed 65-59. Coach Walling put in a man to man press in hopes of narrowing the gap.

Steve Davidson and Ray Golson tallied 14 points each and paced the Buffaloes and Ed Fitzgerald added 10. All-American candidate Willie Sojourner and Guard Bradley Small had 16 each for the winners.

The defense which Walling installed against Sojourner proved effective. Fitzgerald defensed the 6-8 senior from behind during most of the game while Jerry Christian defended from in front of Sojourner.

They limited him to his lowest point total in four games against the Buffs.

He pulled in 18 rebounds, but most of these were during the closing minutes.

The Buffs held a wide margin in rebounding pulling down 62 to 46 for the winners. Davidson led the Buffs with 16 and Ralph Houston had 10. Christian totaled 8 rebounds and Fitzgerald, whose principal duty was to block Sojourner from the boards, had 8.

Camp, a student at West Texas State University. He was driving west en route home and was accompanied by his wife.

Stavenhagen told police he was driving about 60 miles an hour with his lights on dim because of oncoming traffic. Officers believe Orta was rolling a flat tire down the middle of the service road. It was dark at the time of the accident.

Stavenhagen said he saw the Orta boy a split second before his car hit him. The tire was found 700 feet west of the impact. Both Orta's boots were knocked off when he was hit.

Orta's car was found a mile west of Canyon on Highway 60 with its right wheel jacked up. The tire found at the scene of the accident was flat.

No charges were filed in connection with the accident.

Orta was pronounced dead upon arrival at Neblett Memorial Hospital.

The body was sent to Hereford for funeral services and burial.

Vaccines Urged By Physicians

Local health officers this week urged area residents to avail themselves of all routine immunizations, including diphtheria.

Children should receive diphtheria immunization during the first four months of life, again after one year and at least once every five years, adults every 10 years, physicians said.

Usually, in children, the diptheria vaccine is combined with whooping cough and tetanus vaccines since they also are advisable.

Immunizations are available at the local clinics.

Randall County residents can receive immunizations at the Bi-County Health Department at 411 Austin in Amarillo without charge if they are unable to pay. Hours are 1-4 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Rodriguez Ace Ball Handler

Mike Rodriguez is doing for the West Texas State University basketball team what he conditioned himself to do through high school and during long summer hours — shoot the basketball.

Rodriguez, the 6-0 sophomore from San Gabriel, Calif., junked his shooting abilities on last year's Buffalo freshman team in order to become the team ball handler.

"We had standout shooters in Keith Batiste from Los Angeles and Jerry Christian from East Liverpool, Ohio, but we needed the playmaker," said Mike. While serving as the playmaker, Mike still scored at an 11.8 average for a team which finished its season with a 21-5 record.

Head Buffalo coach Dennis Walling has several players capable of playmaking duties on his squad this fall and Mike has been moved to a shooting guard spot.

"We felt Mike was a great shooter when we recruited him out of San Gabriel Mission High School," said Walling, "and now he is proving us correct."

Harry Maloney, who played at Fresno State College, was working at San Gabriel High School, just across the street from Mike's home, during the summer before Mike's sophomore year in high school. Maloney, who was employed by the recreation department, encouraged Mike to play only basketball. He had played football, baseball and basketball in school prior to that summer.

"I started working eight or nine hours daily on my basketball that summer and continued it through high school," said Mike. His coach at Mission, Carl Bolt, was a starter on San Francisco's national championship teams in the 1950s.

Bolt worked with Mike during the summer, playing many one-on-one games with his 170-pound pupil. Mike credits Bolt with teaching him most of his basketball knowledge. Mike also played many one-on-one games at the Pasadena Athletic Club against Bob Warren, formerly with the Los Angeles Stars, and Mike Newlin, now a player at the University of Utah.

"My parents (Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rodriguez) encouraged me to play basketball in the summers instead of working," said Mike. "I worked this past summer on a construction job and played ball in the evenings. I guess that playing during the summers in high school paid off becaue my scholarship is paying for my education."

Mike says he is shooting better this fall than ever before.

"Coach Bill Murren (Buffalo freshman coach) noticed that I was jerking my head as I released the ball and that has resulted in my improved shooting," he said.

During his senior year at Mission High School, the education major at West Texas broke two school records. He scored 530 points for a single season mark and hit 43 points against San Gabriel High School for a single game record.

"We played San Gabriel High in a tournament when I got that record," Mike recalls. "It was great becaue I know all of the fellows on that team. My best friend, Larry Fernando, was guarding me," he said. Fernando is attending the University of Oklahoma on a basketball scholarship.

"And one good thing about my records — they won't be broken. Mission is now an all-girls school and they don't play basketball," Rodriguez said with a grin.

The Buffaloes play twice in Los Angeles this season — playing Cal State of Los Angeles Jan. 19 and Loyola of Los Angeles Jan. 20.

Beauty Shopping

A beauty among thorns. . . pretty Pat Tune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Tune of Lamesa. The 21-year-old coed is an elementary education major and serves as assistant pledge trainer of Delta Zeta, national social sorority.

Davidson Big Buff Guard

Steve Davidson is one of those rare big men in basketball who handles the ball like a guard, and he learned to handle the ball in that manner by doing just that — playing guard.

Through junior high school in Flushing, N.Y., Davidson played a guard position and learned the tools of that post well. The 6-7, 213-pound West Texas State University junior can still handle the ball like a guard and shoot from outside, but he has the moves, scoring punch and rebounding ability to make him a potential All-American as an inside man.

Buffalo coach Dennis Walling recruited the quick forward last year after he helped lead Christian College of the Southwest to the National Junior College Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan. Davidson was named to the National tourney all-star team and was named to the Junior College All-American team.

Sports Illustrated Magazine named him as one of the nation's top five junior college players.

Walling, who is in the middle of a building program after last year's 12-13 record, expects Davidson and Christian College teammate Ray Golson to boost the Buffaloes into a club which can contend against many of the nation's better teams.

Teaming with the junior college transfer is 6-6 returning regular Ed Fitzgerald, 6-5 guard Ralph Houston, who sat out last year after transfering from Southern Colorado, and sophomores 6-6 Jerry Christian, 6-4 Keith Batiste, 6-5 Scott Doores and 6-0 Mike Rodriguez. The sophomores posted a 21-5 record last year on the freshman team.

Davidson and Golson were the key players in Christian College's success last year. Davidson tallied 25 points per game and pulled in an average of 23 rebounds. Golson, a 6-3 guard, scored 23 points per game.

"We liked the Southwestern part of the nation (Christian College is at Garland, Tex.), and when West Texas was voted into the Missouri Valley Conference this year, we decided to play for coach Walling," said Davidson. "West Texas plays an outstanding schedule now and it will improve next year. We play Long Island University at Madison Square Garden next year as part of a Saturday afternoon doubleheader."

The Buffs play such strong nationally known teams this year as New Mexico State, Weber State, Utah State, Houston and Seattle. They will play at least five Missouri Valley teams next season.

Davidson first met Golson when the two were honored at a banquet in Madison Square Garden for the New York All-City team. They have been teammates since then.

Davidson earned all-city honors, as he tallied 32.8 points per game for Bayside High School. He credits Leroy Watkins, a school teacher, with much of his success in basketball. Watkins arranged for Davidson to play summer league basketball in the city recreation program and from that program learned by playing against standout athletes.

Packages Needed For Girls Town

The Palo Duro Mother-in-Law Club is sponsoring a parade of gifts for Girls Town, USA at Whiteface, Texas.

Persons interested in donating such items as cosmetics, hair spray, jewelry, head scarves, panty hose, gloves or other items may be taken to 1005 5th Avenue by December 11.

There are 73 girls at the town in all sizes from age five years up. Those who wish to donate wearing apparel should put the name of the article and the size on the outside of the package.

All packages should be wrapped for Christmas.

The annual club Christmas party will be held December 11 in the home of Mrs. H. E. Campfield, 1005 5th Avenue. Those needing other information should call Mrs. Campfield, Mrs. Rea Walters, or Mrs. Fred Marshall.

WT Orchestra Will Perform In BIT Tonight

The WTSU Orchestra will perform in the Branding Iron Theatre tonight at 8:00 p.m.

The program for the evening includes the Overture to "La Cenerentola" by Rossini; "Lt. Kige Symphonic Suite," by Prokofieff; the "Overture in C," by Bach, and "Symphony No. 5" by Schubert.

The orchestra, under the direction of Alan R. Hawkins, consists of 47 music students.

The group presented a similar program in Pampa recently and will play in Lubbock at Coronado and Dunbar High Schools tomorrow.

Sue Hite Program Monday

The Sue Hite Club will have their Christmas program Monday in the Robert Splawn home, 1703 Hillcrest at 3:45 p.m. Margaret Moore will give the program and Janelle Hicks and Elloese Burgess will lead the group singing.

The Sue Hite hospitality committee will co-hostess the event.

Ralph N. Freeman, Vice President of the Petroleum Division, OKC Corporation, will speak to the West Texas State University Geological Society at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Room 101, of the University Complex, South.

His topic is entitled "Oil Exploration in Ecuador."

Mr. Freeman earned a Bachelor of Science degree in geology from the University of Kentucky in 1950. Since 1950 he has worked in the petroleum industry in the United States, Kingdom of Jordan, Mexico, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and Ecuador.

Color slides of the Oriente Province of Ecuador and the Gulf of Guayaguil will be included in his presentation.

The public is invited to the meeting.

Barrie Cox To Go On College Choir Tour

Barrie Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cox, 2508 5th Avenue, is one of 46 members of the Harding College A Capella chorus on tour of the Southeastern States.

The group will present programs of religious music at churches in Alabama, Georgia, and Florida November 27 through December 6.

The chorus, under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Davis, Jr., professor of music at Harding College, makes two extended tours annually in the United States and signs for civic programs, campus events, and religious groups on weekends. The group also records a weekly radio program, "Hymns from Harding," heard on about 160 stations across the country.

Cox, a sophomore art major, is a member of SNEA, the Art Guild and the recording chorus. Harding College is located in Searcy, Arkansas.

University Women Set Year'sPlans

The University Women of WTSU have announced their list of events for the remainder of the academic year.

The group will hold a Tasting Party in room 101 at the Activities Center at 8:00 p.m. December 11. Each member is asked to bring their favorite party food and a copy of the recipe.

On January 21 the program will be "A Charming Evening with April Lawrence."

February will feature "A Night At the Theatre" and a style show is planned for March. April a "Do Your Own Thing" evening is being planned.

The year will be concluded in May with a covered dish luncheon and business meeting.

Club membership is open to women faculty, staff members, or wives of the university faculty or staff members. Dues are $3.

City Woman's Mother Dies

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bullard, age 92, a resident of Donley County for over 65 years, died November 24 in Groom Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Funeral services were held Thursday, November 26 in the First Baptist Church of Clarendon with the Reverand O. C. Edwards, pastor of the Goodnight Church and the Reverand W. R. Lawrence, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating.

Interment was in the Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon.

Mrs. Bullard was born July 23, 1878 in Bangor, Alabama. She married William A. Bullard February 27, 1896.

Her survivors include six daughters, Mrs. Wayland Angel of Canyon, Mrs. Vess Johnston of Amarillo, Mrs. Ruth Dotson and Mrs. Ray Lowery, both of Dallas, Mrs. Clyde Cruse of Claude, Mrs. Andy Brown of Jerico, and one son, James W. Bullard, of Phoenix, Arizona.

New Medal For Godman

Army Sergeant First Class Ronald O. Godman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Godman, Route 2, Happy, recently received his third award of the Army Commendation Medal at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

Sgt. Godman earned the award for meritorious service during his last assignment in Vietnam.

The sergeant is presently serving as flight operations noncommissioned officer in the 154th aviation company at the Fort. He has also received the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Air Medal.

Sgt. Godman's wife, Beverly, lives in Lawton, Oklahoma.

Dance For Toys Slated By Club

The La Macarena, WTSU Spanish Club will host a record hop in the Activities Center Friday night from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Admission is a toy and all toys will be given to underprivileged children.

Porcelain Club Hears Jorski

The Palo Duro Porcelain Art Club held its November meeting at the Canyon Country Club with a covered dish luncheon.

The tables were decorated with a Thanksgiving theme. Betty Todd of Amarillo served as hostess.

Dorothy Jorski of Oklahoma City, nationally known for her bird painting talent, gave the program. After a summary on types of bird and painting technique, members were assisted in painting cardinals, mockingbirds, and chickadees.

Visiting guests were Doris Payne, traveling companion of Mrs. Jorski and Vivian Christal of Amarillo.

Fruit May Be Ordered Now From FFA

The Future Farmers of America at Canyon High School are now taking orders for fresh oranges and grapefruit from the valley.

The 40 pound boxes may be all of one fruit or half and half. Each box sells for $5.50 each and may be ordered from any FFA member or by calling the high school at 655-3921.

The boxes of fruit will be delivered the week of December 16 to 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cox have returned from Denver where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Cashwell.

Mr. Cashwell is recovering from a heart attack and is in Denver's Lutheran Hospital. Mrs. Cashwell is the former Helen Jo Cox.

Scholarship Is Awarded

Clayton Rogers, Oklahoma State University freshman in floriculture, was named the winner of the Steve Ray Memorial Scholarship.

The $250 scholarship honors the memory of Steve Ray, a 1943 OSU graduate in floriculture, who at the time of his death, in December, 1961, was production manager for Furrow and Company, Inc., at Guthrie, Oklahoma.

The award, to be given annually, was initiated by Jim Irwin, of Irwin's Greenhouses, of Canyon. Irwin was associated with Steve Ray for several years in commercial greenhouse crop production

Clayton Rogers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rogers, 133 Bramblewood Road, Bartlesville, Oklahoma.
